UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

JOSHUA OSBORNE

Joshua Osborne is currently the Civilian Deputy Director, Congressional Budget and Appropriations Liaison Directorate (SAF/FML), Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Financial Management and Comptroller, Headquarters U.S. Air Force, Arlington, Virginia. In his role he provides leadership to a team of congressional liaisons and supports Department of the Air Force senior leaders to facilitate successful Congressional engagements with the Appropriations and Budget Committees in advocacy of the President's Budget request.

Mr. Osborne entered government service in 2003 as a Cost Analyst within the Air Force Palace Acquire Intern Program. Throughout his career he has taken on roles of increasing responsibility within the financial management community at both the installation and Command level as well as serving in the first cadre of financial analysts during the stand-up of the FM Center of Expertise. Mr. Osborne also served in a variety of acquisitions roles within the F-35 Lightning II Joint Program Office, including finance lead for Development and Production and later as Chief of Finance for the International Cooperative Partnership Directorate. Prior to his current role, Mr. Osborne joined the Air Staff as Deputy Director, Air Force Budget Programs (Engine Room), leading the development and defense of the President's Budget request for Fiscal Year 2018, 2019 and 2020.
